INTRODUCTION

The Engineering Council of South Africa in partnership with the South Africa Institution of Civil Engineering (SAICE) will from 25-26 March 2026 host the inaugural Engineering Symposium and Engineering Industry Awards at the Galleria in Sandton and the annual ECSA Fundraising Golf Day will take place on 27 March 2025 at the Randpark Golf Course.

Over 300 local and international delegates inclusive of academia, students, Voluntary Associations, state owned enterprises, government as well as engineering practitioners are expected to gather in South Africa to inspire innovative, implementable decisions for sustainable development while also promoting diversity, education, and alignment with the Global Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

The Symposium will mark a watershed moment for the profession as it convenes the full spectrum of the engineering ecosystem – from students and emerging innovators to regulators, policymakers, academics and private sector leaders.

The joint venture between ECSA and SAICE is as strategic as it is necessary: ECSA brings national oversight, regulatory authority and a commitment to transformation and development. The SAICE, with over 15 500 members and 120 years of legacy, offers technical expertise, member mobilisation power and strong grassroots networks.

This partnership has also been catapulted by the momentum of the hugely successful UNESCO 9th African Engineering Week and the 7th FAEO Conference. That event not only showcased South Africa's engineering talent but also positioned the country as continental leader in driving innovation and sustainable development.

THEME

The Symposium and Awards will be hosted under the theme “Engineering for Sustainable Development: Empowering Innovation, Inclusion, and Impact”

OBJECTIVES

- Provide an information sharing platform
- Promoting engineering innovations in the Republic and beyond
